CHAPTER 1: A BLANKET OF LIES

WE LIVE IN VERY STRANGE times. We're living in times in which the old construct of systems and governmental systems are breaking apart, giving way to newer innovations in the laws of the land. People all over the world are waking up to the monstrosities of the globalist takeover, which had once led us to a desolation of spirit and mind. This is no longer the case. People are fighting with every last breath to restore the world to a state in which governmental systems are ruled by the people and the people only. People want their governments to be dictated by their wishes and desires, rather than the desires of the special interest of the lobbyists on top. The deadliest blow to the globalists was Trump, and continues to be the deadliest to this day.

Trump is an outsider. He was the one person running for office (and now in office) who couldn't be bribed by lobbyists. He has enough money, and he probably realized, after having all the money in the world, that there were more important things to aim for. He wanted to see prosperity in the US. He felt bad looking down at his country and see it all in desolation while he was in his private jet. He transcended the lust for money which is held by many of us, because he had it all. At the point he's in right now, all that matters to him is to see his people prosper, and to rise against the internationalists who have drained every last bit of the US dry. And he's not only leading to changes in the US, he's also sending a shockwave of rebellion all across the world. Because of his words and what he stands for, everywhere across the world people are rebelling against globalism.

The government before Trump was one run by the hands of Satan himself. It was all about self-preservation and "I don't give a damn about you, at all. I only care for myself." This was the type of mentality which had besieged the minds of pretty much every American. But that was before. In the past two years, the globalists suffered so many losses that at this current point in time, we can finally say, that we are in fact winning! The beautiful thing is that with Trump's words and actions, people and even governments all over the world are feeling the shockwave of rebellion. People all over the world are completely and entirely fed up of governmental systems playing god. The fact is, only God has the final say on everything, and one day, the meek and humble of the Earth will rise to these tyrannical systems, which most often have a common root: the head of the snake. The head of the snake of the globalists, worshipped by the globalists, and which feeds the entire world its venom of pure evil, having people wander the streets astray and lost. People aren't sick and tired. They are BEYOND sick and tired. They're sick and tired to the point that they have dreams of death, and some even wander the streets just wishing a car slams them to their death. People are being deprived nutritionally by the Big Pharma companies, their spirits smashed through shame by advertisements, and their heads kept looking on the ground, not knowing what to do with their lives.

Trump is a glitch in the matrix known as the Democratic-Republic system complex. He doesn't abide by any of the lame and deadening protocol that the previous 'presidents' held on to. The fact is, the current system is a dead one, and it took someone like Trump to drive a spear into every creature in the swamp. The globalists have victimized pretty much every last human on the planet. Their systems are designed to break our spirit. That way, they can control us. The devastation of our spirits comes from everything from psychiatry to education to politics. Every last glimmer of hope for us humans has been tampered with so they can mold us into machines rather than human beings aided to reach our potential. The main reason why the world is so impoverished both economically and spiritually, is that no one cares about the other anymore. There is no more "love thy neighbor” or “love thy fellow man”. Everyone is so brainwashed by the system that every last thread of humanity has been stripped from them.

Trump is leading to the eventual destruction of the globalists and their deadening systems. Trump and Brexit are both the first two signs from above that people are finally being liberated from the spell of slavery and the Stockholm Syndrome we used to have towards the elite. Trump is a virus to the globalists, and slowly, with his words and message, people will have fully awoken to the devastation the systems of the world have caused to people. He was the one person who couldn't be bought and paid for. He transcended the lust for power and greed (because he had all the money he could ask for), and actually went forth for the liberation and prosperity of his people. The remarkable thing about what's going on in the US, is that the events going on in it (due to Trump and his followers) is leading to a massive global awakening which will eventually lead us all to a new renaissance. Will there be trouble on the way to that end goal? Definitely. But trouble sometimes is necessary to disentrall ourselves from previous deadening and obsolete systems, and to bring forth a newer set of systems which are operated by and for the people. We are slowly reaching that stage. All we need to do is to keep fighting, and most importantly, stay alive until the new dawn comes our way.

The fight between the forces of good and evil are intensifying now, and will keep intensifying over the next year or so. The good news is, the good side of the force is winning! However, before we reach the point of victory, there will be suffering. The fight between good and evil isn't all physical, it also occurs at the spiritual/metaphysical realm, where there is a subtle battle between the forces of good and evil, between those who seek God and those who seek destruction and the path of Satan. Trump is a major sign that the forces of good are overcoming the forces of evil, and the longer he's in office, the more the purely evil elite at the top will lose power. Everything the globalists have built is slowly falling apart, and if we keep fighting until the end, the whole world (not only the US) will once again be a part of true civilization led by liberty and PEOPLE. We haven't even been living in a civilization. We've been living in a manufactured world (somewhat like a matrix), led by companies and conglomerates, simulated by elitists, and aimed at draining every last bit of our spiritual energy as we head towards global suicide. We're living in a simulated world, not a civilization. We're living in a world where we have cult leaders, and where we are a part of this global cult, made to believe in the huge blanket of lies covering all of our eyes from the truth.

CHAPTER 2: HEARTLESS CONTROL

TRUMP IS AN ERROR IN the machine that is known as the globalist combine takeover. The internationalists are hanging on a thread at this point, with every one of their plans failing, and failing big time. Everything they throw Trump's way just backfires on them. Nothing they do works anymore, because the people are wide, wide awake now. When the spirit of man has broken completely from the lies, deception and carnage, revolution was the only thing left in us. Trump is upsetting both the democratic and republican parties, and is sending the swamp monsters back to where they came, Hell. The whole world is in a war now, a spiritual war waged between the factions of truth and fiction, and the truth is finally prevailing! "What's done in the dark will be brought to the light". At the end of the day, when night covers us all, God has the final say on everything. God has gotten off his throne, and is exacting justice upon the vile evil of the Earth, of demons and men, and bringing the world closer to an era where we'll finally know mental and spiritual peace.

Trump is the worst nightmare of the globalists. Ever since he came into office, every last station of the pathetic mainstream media complex has been going against him, but to no avail. Nobody, literally nobody with half a brain believes them anymore. And their trust ratings are quickly going down the drain. In fact, they're already down the drain and now in the sewers! It's about time we saw government ruled by and for the people. And this revolution going on in the US has sent shockwaves all over the world. Shockwaves of rebellion against the globalists. It's not fair to say that "people are waking up". No! WE'RE ALREADY AWAKE! And we're awakening exponentially. The people have had more than their fair share of suffering, and it's about time the truth overtakes the land and we become free. All the people want is the truth, but to the globalists that's too much to ask for. Well, F THEM!

The constitution of the United States was always focused on human rights in the sense that they were given to Americans by God, the Creator. It wasn't based on rights given to people by the government! If that were the case, then every last American would be a slave! And that's how it's been in the US for quite some time. It has been a state of Stockholm Syndrome for God knows how long. That song by Metallica: "Master of puppets I'm pulling your strings... Dedicated to how I'm killing you". The systems of globalism are based solely on the self-destruction of the spirit so we can remain easily controlled. People have had beyond enough suffering. It's time we saw a new renaissance. Trump is igniting the flame of that renaissance, but the people themselves have to kindle it into a fire the globalists can't contain.

The main reason people have supported Trump and continue to support him is for this reason: to DRAIN THE SWAMP. People's spiritual level (in the metaphysical sense) has reached an all-time low, and people realized that it's either they take their country back, or give in to the death that the globalists have been offering for the past century or so. People have been struggling to awaken for a very, very long time, being stuck constantly in a state of deep sleep, a coma, while still awake and breathing. Trump is DISINTEGRATING the matrix that the globalists have set over our eyes. But it's not Trump per se who's doing that. It's what he represents. And what he represents is God, liberty, and the people. And since he represents those things, THE PEOPLE ARE WITH HIM. And since the people stand with such a person, THEN THE GLOBALISTS HAVE LOST!

People have been wanting to have their voices heard for a very long time. People all over the world are pulling out of globalism because everything they say matters not to those on top. The degree to which people have been deprived of aid when it comes to their lives has become extreme.

Trump is bringing an end to all of this spiritual monstrosity. Once he brings an end to it in the US, other leaders from around the world will be inspired and do the same. Globalism sounds like a good idea on the surface, but on a deeper level, it brings detrimental effects to a person's spirit. Not only that, but the idea of reducing the population by over 50% and having a few elitists rule the whole world sounds pretty grim. People need to once again regain control of their countries, whereby they have rulers which care for them and their voices. Sorrow has overtaken the lands of the world, and almost everyone is crawling for their next meal. That thing Tupac said which still rings in my head: "They never wanted us to make it. Everything that we possess, we had to fight and take it." That is astoundingly true. No one is aided to reach their dreams. Everyone has to take what's rightfully theirs. Pretty much every government in the world isn't inclined on aiding the general public. It's all to serve the special interests of the snake at the very top.

Trump is the first president in so, so long to ever heed the voices of the people, and NOT bail out on his promises once he hit the oval office and officially became the president of the US. This brings tons of hope to anyone out there cast on the side dreaming to make it somewhere in life, because before, the government chewed and spit out anyone who had a voice and who questioned too much. Questioning has become the crime of the century. Without questioning, there will be no healthy, productive debate, and there will be no future, because we'd be committing the same mistakes.

Trump has driven a spear into the matrix this world was once engulfed in. You know, that simulated matrix where everyone blindly obeys whatever the government tells them to do without them questioning it. There seems to be some sort of major battle between angels and demons where this time the angels are finally winning, since God has probably gotten off his throne and came forth for the salvation of mankind. Something very strange has been going on for the past two years, and more has happened in the past two years than in the past 100. The matrix which has everyone blindly going down the valley of self-destruction, self-defeat and inward shame is slowly being DISINTEGRATED by Trump. Brexit is also something else which struck a blow to that matrix. And the reason behind Trump getting elected can only be a touch from the Divine. The globalists realized that the tide is turning against them, and now know that it will continue to do so until they've lost all of their heartless control over the people.

CHAPTER 3: WE'RE WIDE AWAKE

GLOBALISM DOES SOUND LIKE A great idea on the surface. What would be more beautiful than every person from every color and race getting along? There's absolutely no problem with that, and to me, it sounds beautiful! But that's not the issue with it. The issue with it is the WAY it is being implemented by the globalists. The globalists seek to generate a 'utopia' where everyone from any race gets along, by poisoning us through the pharmaceutical industry, brainwashing us through the media, causing malnutrition through the food industry, because when we're 'zombiefied' at every level, OF COURSE we're going to get along. When our brains are operating a borderline retarded level, we'll get along with anyone. We'll be in a state similar to those high on marijuana. You see, this is diversity and global peace kept by FORCE rather than by understanding, and that's why people refer to liberalism and globalism as nothing but a subtle yet severe form of a mental disorder. But, if there was to be globalism kept by understanding and reason, then show me the way, and I'll be RIGHT BEHIND YOU! And that type of globalism CAN be found and implemented, but the globalists DON'T WANT that type of globalism because they want TOTAL CONTROL.

The entirety of the media was attacking Trump before getting elected, yet he still got elected against every last odd. That's to show that God has gotten off his throne and is beginning to exact justice. And although Trump is simple with his words, he is an extremely intelligent individual. What proves that is how he was able to outsmart and outwit the entirety of the MSM prior to getting elected with zero help from anyone. God has gotten off his throne to besiege the globalists into submission, the submission of showing them that despite all of their arrogance, they are but men, and if God wanted something to happen, even though all of them plotted and plotted, God will have the final say. We are slowly seeing the rise in nationalism despite the wishes of the globalists. Slowly, the world will have been the way it was in the beginning. You know, the beginning, when everything was natural and truth-filled, not technocratic and full of lies and deception like today.

But this is much bigger than Trump. He, in the end, is only human. The fight between good and evil is intensifying and will be intensifying for the next year, in which the forces of good and slowly overcoming the forces of evil. This is happening on a metaphysical scale. The fight between angels and demons is going into berserk mode, and the angels are winning. This is a cycle of victory and defeat which has been going on since the dawn of humanity. Things are going to change dramatically, very dramatically, within the next decade. And we are going to notice these changes within the next two years. Mark my words, the forces of good will triumph, and we'll see a future we never would've imagined would come into being. Trump is only a manifestation of the eventual victory of the forces of good. All over the world we're seeing a retreat from the evils of globalism, and eventually, we'll return to the way things should have been since the beginning.

The mainstream media has completely failed and is continuing to fail to denounce Trump. Whenever they try to attack him, it only backfires on them. As Alex Jones said, "the genie is out of the bottle now". Nothing can repair the mainstream media, because everyone knows by now that they are complete and utter liars. It's about time we saw humanity rise against such a dire evil, and it's about time we saw nationalism win the hearts of people. It's time we saw a world which operated on reason rather than the insanity of being controlled by the globalists from head to foot. Trump is a HUGE obstacle to the globalists, and with his election, they have witnessed and experienced loss after loss. Slowly the people are awakening, and in fact, we are currently FULLY AWAKE. Trump is unpredictable? GOOD. That means he's a real human being and not a robot who reads of a prewritten script.

For as long as we can remember, we've felt that something was seriously wrong with the world, although it couldn't be easily detected, because we were living in a world of deception. We still are living in a world of deception, but the difference now is that we CAN SEE THROUGH THE DECEPTION! People realized that they aren't going to take it anymore, and that it's victory or death. The survival instinct has been ignited in everyone across the world, because pretty much everyone is in a state of poverty and self-defeat. The systems of the world are made to inhibit and suppress every last bit of our consciousness, until we become more machine than human, more disabled than able. Trump is driving the biggest spear through the globalists' lair, but he isn't the only factor. Draining the swamp in America is only the first step to the grand awakening that the world is going to experience in the near future. We need to drain the swamp in other major countries as well, because the globalists have put their hand into pretty much every last country on this god forsaken Earth. Well, it used to be god forsaken, because now GOD HAS GOTTEN OFF HIS THRONE AND PUT TRUMP IN POWER, AND IS NOW DRAINING THE ENERGY OUT OF THE HEAD OF THE SNAKE!

I'm all for globalism if it was actually there to bring people together. Well, that is what it's doing, but the process OF doing that is completely disgusting. We're being poisoned at every level from every angle. The pharmaceutical industry, the psychiatric industry, the food industry, the medical industry, the health industry are all examples of actual poison. Thought poisoning comes from the mainstream media, the music industry, the television industry, the formal educational systems, and mostly, HOLLYWOOD. Hollywood, which is practically dead right now, is probably secretly designed to steal souls and to turn us into empty vessels. It's DESIGNED to turn us away from God up high, by the thoughts it introduces and the images they portray. Subliminal messaging in Hollywood goes far beyond those secret images we see hidden from view. Subliminal messaging is also symbolism. It's also the INDIRECT message it's trying to convey. All you need to do is to be awake to see through it. And if you're living these days and reading this, then you're probably already awake, which is very good.

CHAPTER 4: GLOBALISM IS A MENTAL DISORDER

THAT SAYING “NO ARMY CAN stop an idea whose time has come”. Well, the time has come for change in the world, and if God sees it as such, then no amount of thought suppression from the elite will work anymore. Trump is only a manifestation of God’s will. We’ve seen God’s will work through Brexit, and just recently the departure of Catalonia from Spain. Nations all over the world are pulling out of globalism. And if they haven’t pulled out yet, they are actively trying! There has been a massive awakening in the past few years, and people are slowly rising to the evil which has been inflicted on each and every one of us.

The whole world tried to stop Trump, but no one could. The WHOLE world. The TV industry, academia, Hollywood, mainstream media, and every last part of the machine which has put this world into a coma of lies. If God’s energy is working through Trump, then nothing can stop him. And it’s the same with the spirit of people themselves! People have been fed up with the system for a very, very long time. It was only recently that people gathered up the courage, strength, and most importantly, spirit, to fight back!

Globalism per se is not the problem. Bringing people together and having them all co-exist is a beautiful idea. But the problem with globalism isn’t the bringing of people together. It’s HOW globalism is operating, and HOW it’s bringing people together. If globalism was only there to bring people together in the name of religious and cultural coexistence, then there’s no problem with that. But they’re not helping us reserve our cultural and religious roots in order to do that. They are STRIPPING us all of our cultural and religious roots, so that as soulless, lost human beings, we coexist. Their goal is to have us coexist and soulless vessels and zombies. And they're stripping the whole world of their cultural and religious roots by introducing fake, empty, Satanic culture and ideas through the media and television. All of these TV shows and all of this GARBAGE from Hollywood isn't made to entertain you. It's made to plant ideas and thoughts into your head which are antagonistic to your religion and culture. That's the whole point of it. If it was original, decent, meaningful music, then there's no problem with that. But to see Miley Cyrus, who once used to be a role model to kids, completely change into a prostitute, and play with a balloon dildo in front of her 13 year old fans on stage, is utterly disgusting and disappointing.

Trump is the manifestation of a new, brighter age whose time is coming, free from the Satanic garbage from places like Hollywood. He is destroying the matrix as we now know it. He's bringing an end to the dogmas and garbage of the past, and bringing forth a newer way of thinking for all of us. The head of the snake is rooted in America, and if America is cleansed from this Satanic garbage, then the whole world will follow. Take Hollywood for example. All of these prostitute and sellout musicians act like they're in their teens. Their lyrics are utterly stupid, meaningless, and sound like they come from a 12 year old. It's the kind of garbage you hear from a teenage boy who doesn't understand life and wants to experiment. It's the same thing with these musicians, except they're older than 12 year olds, yet singing and acting like them. The whole point of Hollywood is to poison us with Satanic garbage. And Hollywood is dying, and dying fast, thanks to Trump. And this whole take a knee at the NFL. BS. The matrix is dying and disintegrating, thanks to Trump. It's about time we saw people become God fearing rather than God angering.

This plethora of lies engulfing the world like the cloak of Death has been poisoning us for decades. It's all coming to an end, but slowly. All things take time. We've been poisoned thought-wise and body-wise. The whole world is both exiting and entering the matrix. But the ones exiting have their voices stronger and louder. And the ones entering it are just victimizing themselves without knowing it. But most people in the matrix have been in it since birth, so basically, that's how they enter it. Trump is one of the decoding systems to that matrix, its destroyer. People have to realize that they're living a lie. They have to realize that all around them is inspired by the works of Satan. And if you don't believe that the devils, angels and God exist, then you're plain stupid (no offense intended). You just need to grow up if that's the case.

An example of this Satanism is the excessive openness to everything coming from the disease of liberalism. Being free and being open is different. Being free means you realize your limits, become aware of them, work with them, and strive to be a better human being within those limits. But being open, when it comes to liberalism, means being open to everything, a lot of which is angering to God. This includes the over acceptance of states like transgenderism. If you're biologically a male, and wish to be a woman, then you have a mental illness. Will psychiatric drugs help? Maybe. In my other books I mention how psychiatric drugs are absolutely harmful to the brain. What you would need is to find ways to clear your mind from thoughts which are completely disconnected from the realm of reality. In reality, there are only two genders. But these days there is this Satanically induced openness which gives way to a disgustingly excessive number of genders, that one wonders whether God just gave up on this world. Well, God got angry with the likes of Lot, and he will show his anger again. I'm sorry, but that's just how God works. God always knows best, and if God knows that being gay is the wrong thing and inspired by Satan, then that's the truth. You need to get your head fixed, that's it. And the sooner you realize that, the sooner you can get your life back on track. It's probably true that if the physical and mental health of a gay person is in check, and if that person undergoes an exorcism, then that person won't be gay anymore. Or a transgender person anymore. If the medical industries and the psychiatric industry weren't so corrupt, and the media stopped pushing anti-God propaganda, then we would have a LOT less gay people.

CHAPTER 5: THE GLOBALISTS' DOOM IS NIGH

BUT THIS IS ALL TO show that the days of God are returning. People have had far more than enough. Those who have already bought into the system are the ones lost and astray. The ones lost and astray thinking they've found the right path, when it will only lead them to the depths of Hell. For every Yin there's a Yang. For every evil force there's a good force who is aware of the evil, has the knowledge of evil, yet doesn't give in to the evil and does all he/she can to fight it. The globalists are getting desperate now with Trump and all the uprising all over the world. One day the world will be redeemed from those horrid people. We want to see a day when intelligence isn't belittled but rather cherished. We want to see a day when enlightenment is virtue, when peace is kept by understanding rather than by force, and when man cares for his fellow man. Trump is one of the major signs that the globalists have already lost, and the signs are continuing to show up. People are drowning in their misery far too much, wishing for death more than life, as we've been suffering under these tyrants for far too long. The globalists are nothing but bullies disguising as noble men. They're nothing but the darkness this world wants to shun out. They're nothing but the root of the disease overtaking the globe. They will be forced to kneel before the throne of God, and will learn to be humble for once in their lives. They will learn that although they intimidate they cannot kill. They will learn that although all of them gather and plot to rid the world of its Godliness and holiness, they will all be brought forth as dogs before the might of God. They will learn that their time is coming to an end, and the artificial matrix that's been cast upon the world will be broken down, and it already is. The US is one of the many countries to rid itself of globalism, and although there are still many nations that didn't pull out of it, the tide has already turned metaphysically, and their doom is both inevitable and nigh.
