INTRODUCTION

Tower College is an Independent Christian school dedicated to providing high quality care and education for children aged 0 to 16. Achievement, belonging and compassion make up the core values of the school and are what make Tower College so outstanding. A challenging curriculum and high expectations encourage our pupils to unlock their potential in a positive and nurturing environment that allows them to flourish.

SEN DEFINITION

SEN stands for 'Special Educational Needs'. The phrase Special Educational Needs is defined in section 20 of the Children and Families Act 2014.

Section 20 of the Children and Families Act 2014 states that:

“(1) A child or young person has special educational needs if he or she has a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.

(2) A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she--

(a) has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or

(b) has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions.

(3) A child under compulsory school age has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she is likely to be within subsection (2) when of compulsory school age (or would be likely, if no special educational provision were made).”

SEND CODE OF PRACTICE 2015 AND THE CHILDREN AND FAMILIES ACT

The 2015 Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) Code of Practice and the 2014 Children and Families Act have introduced reforms to the system that aim to promote greater co-operation between education, health and social care in order to ensure that children receive the support they need. An emphasis has been placed on the importance of early identification, a graduated response and timely provision to afford children with SEN and/or disabilities the opportunity to reach their full potential. The admission arrangements for Tower College are in accordance with national legislation, namely, The Equality Act 2010. This policy has been written with regard to the 2015 SEND Code of Practice although we recognise that many of the requirements do not have direct application to independent schools.

FOUR BROAD AREAS OF SEN

1. Communication and Interaction
 - Speech and language
 - Social communication

2. Sensory and/or physical
 - Physical disability
 - Multi-sensory impairment
 - Hearing impairment
 - Vision impairment

3. Social, emotional and mental health
 - Attention deficit disorder
 - Attention deficit hyperactive disorder
 - Attachment disorder
 - Anxiety
 - Depression
 - Withdrawal
 - Self-harming
 - Substance misuse
 - Eating disorders
 - Challenging behaviour

4. Cognition and learning
 - Moderate difficulties
 - Severe learning difficulties
 - Specific Learning Difficulties – Dyslexia, Dyspraxia, Dyscalculia.
 - Profound and multiple learning difficulties
 - Gifted and Talented

It is important to note that the four areas are not exclusive and pupils with SEND can fall into one or more of the categories and needs can change over time.

IDENTIFICATION OF PUPILS' NEEDS

Tower College adopts a child centred, whole school approach to SEND. Identifying where SEN provision is needed is vital in ensuring that pupils have access to support that will enable them to reach their full potential. Early identification is key and the EYFS framework aids this as it identifies any child that is falling below expected outcomes. However, it is not always possible to detect special educational needs early, thus pupil's progress continues to be assessed and monitored as they progress through the school. Tools including dyslexia and dyscalculia screener tests are used to help discover underlying issues to slow progress.

WAVES OF INTERVENTION

We follow the three waves of intervention model in order to meet the needs of pupils with SEND.

THE GRADUATED RESPONSE

The graduated response is a four part cycle which enables the school to provide effective SEND provision and support for pupils from early identification right through to requesting an EHC Plan.

Assess

When a concern is raised, the teacher and SENCO will carry out an evaluation in order to put in place effective interventions, strategies and to ensure that any barriers to learning are removed. The evaluation will take into account the pupil's previous and current level of attainment, their development as an individual and compared to that of their peers, relevant advice from outside agencies and the views of the parents and the pupil. It is important to note that parents' viewpoints, concerns and advice are sought and taken seriously, as are the pupils.

Plan

If it is decided that the pupil ought to be provided with SEN support, the teacher and SENCO, in conjunction with the parents will put in place an ISP and a pupil profile outlining the interventions and strategies that are going to be adopted. Predicted outcomes and a clear date for review will also be decided and all relevant staff will be informed of their responsibilities in carrying out the interventions and aiding progress. The pupil will be added to the SEND register.

Do

The teacher, with support from the SENCO will continue to retain responsibility for working with the pupil on a daily basis, regardless of whether interventions involve one to one support or group work outside of the class. All staff involved in the education of the pupil will work together to ensure that the strategies and plans are adhered to and are effectively included within the classroom.

Review

Parents, the pupil, the teacher and the SENCO are all involved in this stage. Reviewing the effectiveness of the planned interventions and support is key in determining whether progress is being made and targets are being met. Once the ISP has been reviewed, the SENCO and the teacher, in consultation with the parents and pupil, are in a position to decide whether any amendments to the provision in place is necessary. For pupils who receive extra funding, the Local Authority will set a review date and the school will be required to provide the relevant information which will be presented to the Provision Agreement Panel. The four part cycle of additional need will then begin again.

PROVISION FOR SEND

Teaching staff will support pupils at a level appropriate to their needs through effective differentiation and high-quality teaching in the classroom.

Every child on the SEND register will have a Pupil profile. This lists the child's strengths and interests, specifies their SEND, provides information on how all staff can best support the child and how the child can help themselves. This allows the child to voice their views and encourages independence. The profiles also ensure that all subject teachers are aware of what the child's needs are and how to support them.

Every term each class teacher in collaboration with the SENCO completes an ISP to set achievable targets for pupils on the SEND register. The targets are reviewed on a termly basis.

Pupils requiring more specific intervention to access the curriculum may be supported in a range of ways, including:

- Individual or small group literacy and numeracy interventions including Toe by Toe, Nessy Learning Online – Literacy and Numbers, Beat Dyslexia and Problem Solving in Maths.
- Individual or small group social and emotional development interventions, including SEAL club.
- Individual or small group support to develop fine and gross motor skills including Write from the Start.
- Shared in-class support from a teaching assistant.
- Auditory and visual memory support programmes.
- Individual interventions to meet specific needs, for example the teaching of life skills.

Support Intervention is considered on an individual basis and parents will be offered the option of funding the high-level support or interventions if there is no Local Authority funding support available.

Likewise, should a parent decide that they do not wish for their child to participate in additional intervention sessions, this request will need to be in writing and a copy of this request will be kept on file.

Tower College has two disabled WC rooms, two lifts, disabled access, an SEN Classroom and rooms available to be used for intervention groups or individual work.

ADMISSION

The admission arrangements for Tower College are in accordance with national legislation, namely, The Equality Act 2010. This policy has been written with regard to the 2015 SEND Code of Practice although we recognise that many of the requirements do not have direct application to independent schools. Thus, all applications will be considered in line with current guidance and no child will be discriminated against or treated unfairly.

Prospective pupils must have completed successful 'Taster Days', have positive references from their previous school(s), and achieve a required level in the appropriate assessment for their age. If admittance is granted, it will be on a term's trial basis (based on a 12 week period)

For prospective pupils known to have special educational needs, admission will not be solely based on the assessments but will also depend on an up to date report from an educational psychologist and advice from the SENCO. Special educational needs pupils will be required to have a suitable ability and work-ethic to enable them to participate in the curriculum here at Tower College. If admittance is granted, it will be on a term's trial basis. Children will be considered on an individual basis and parents will be offered the option of funding the high-level support or interventions if there is no Local Authority funding support available.

Any offer of a place found to be made on the basis of inaccurate information can be withdrawn. Such examples would include fraudulent applications, intentionally misleading applications, and the failure of a parent to respond to an offer of a place within 14 days. An offer of a place may also be withdrawn should a term's trial deemed not to be successful.

Equality and Inclusion

Tower College promotes inclusion and believes that all children ought to take a full and active part in school life. The school is committed to preventing discrimination, promoting equal opportunities and will continue to use best endeavours to ensure that pupils with SEN get the support they require.

Tower College recognises that we must make 'reasonable adjustments' for disabled pupils and to support pupils who have medical conditions.

SAFEGUARDING

Tower College is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare and well-being of all children and young people in the school. Research has shown that pupils with special educational needs and disabilities are at a significantly greater risk of physical, sexual, emotional abuse and neglect than non-disabled children. It is therefore vital that the school is aware of the additional vulnerabilities of children with SEND and is prepared for the safeguarding challenges that may arise.

Why pupils with SEND are more vulnerable to abuse and neglect.

- Children with special educational needs are more vulnerable to abuse for a variety of reasons.
- There is a wide held notion that abuse does not happen to children with SEND
- Children with SEND are often not heard or provided with the opportunity to choose. They are often unable to actively participate in their life. Decisions are made for them.
- Children with SEND are often isolated and have few friends
- They are wholly dependent on parents/carers.
- Children with SEND may be unable to resist or avoid abuse
- Speech, language and communication difficulties may hinder their ability to disclose abuse.
- Children with SEND are more vulnerable to bullying. This can have a disproportionate impact on the child which may not be outwardly apparent.
- SEND pupils may have intimate care needs that increases the risk of abuse.
- Children with SEND may not have the capacity to understand if an adult is behaving inappropriately.
- Children with SEND are also less likely to disclose abuse or neglect.

What are the barriers to recognising abuse in children with SEND?

Staff may have difficulty recognising indicators of abuse in children with SEND as they may believe changes in mood, behaviour and injury relate to the child's disability not abuse or neglect. As a school, we want to ensure that all staff are alert to the indicators of abuse for all children, including those with SEND.

These indicators can include,

- Poor understanding of the child's needs
- Staff not being aware of the impact of the disability on the child
- Staff not understanding the child's needs
- Not being able to understand the child's method of communication.
- Over identifying with child's parent/carers – writing off abuse or neglect as an understandable response to the stress of caring for a child with SEND
- Awareness that behaviour including sexually harmful behaviour or self-injury may be signs of abuse.
- Awareness that health/medical complications can be mistakenly interpreted as possible indicators of abuse. An example of this would be a child who bruises easily or who has fragile bones.

What does Tower College do to promote safeguarding and protect pupils with SEND?

All staff are required to read and follow the policies and procedures outlined in the Safeguarding Policy.

Staff undertake relevant safeguarding training to ensure they are aware of the indicators of child abuse and what to do if they have a concern about a child.

Staff are able to attend CPD training in all areas of SEND including communication training in Makaton, PODD books, Picture Exchange Communication System. School also has links with relevant outside agencies who can provide support and advice.

All staff are provided with one page profiles that outline the child's special educational need or disability, lists their likes and interests, how to help them and how they can help themselves. The profiles are in place to ensure that all staff are aware of the child's individual needs and are able to meet them effectively.

Prompt, regular communication between all staff is key in promoting the safety and wellbeing of the children who attend Tower College. An effective partnership between the SENCO and safeguarding officers ensures that we identify high risk children, monitor them and focus our resources appropriately. This enables us to identify patterns and link relevant information, such as children who are on the SEND register, those whose attendance is poor or erratic and this is key in keeping a child safe from harm.

The school has a comprehensive anti-bullying policy and any incidents are dealt with promptly and effectively in line with procedure.

Tower College emphasises the importance of understanding that every child is an individual and children with SEND have an equal right to protection from abuse.

SUPPORTING PUPILS WITH MEDICAL NEEDS

Tower College recognises that pupils with medical conditions need to be supported in order that they take a full and active part in school life. If a pupil has a medical need then a health care plan is compiled and information regarding the specific medical need is put up on the notice board in the relevant areas in order to ensure the safety and wellbeing of the pupil. The pupil's needs are discussed with relevant staff and any appropriate training will be undertaken. When necessary and with permission from parents/carers medicines will be administered where a medical consent form is in place to ensure the safety of the child and staff member.

TRANSITION

Tower College is divided into departments:

Tower Tots - 0 - 4

Pre Prep Department – Nursery – Year 1

Lower School - Year 2 – Year 4

Middle School - Year 5 – Year 8

Upper School – Year 9 – Year 11

Good communication and sharing of information ensure that pupils with SEND are supported in their progression through the school. Pupils are given the opportunity to visit new classrooms and become familiar with new routines in order to ensure a smooth transition. For those pupils that find change difficult, we also provide transition booklets that they can take home over the summer. The booklet contains pictures of their new classroom, their new teachers and classroom assistants and reassurance that although some things will be different some things will remain the same. Any changes to the daily routine are also highlighted. Pupils joining from different settings are invited to spend trial days to enable them to become accustomed to their new school and meetings with parents and previous teachers are welcomed in order to ensure that the pupil receives appropriate support.

GIFTED AND TALENTED PUPILS

Tower College is committed to supporting all pupils including those who are gifted and talented.

Gifted and talented pupils will be identified in a variety of ways, including:

- Teacher observations
- Assessment
- Monitoring and recording of the pupil's progress.

Gifted and talented pupils needs will be met using a variety of strategies including:

- Setting more complex extension work to develop and use their skills.
- Tackling work from older year groups.
- Providing the opportunity for G&T pupils to stretch themselves and allow them the opportunity to experience setbacks and failure.
- Encourage G&T pupils to use their initiative, ask questions and solve problems effectively.
- Provide high quality, differentiated and individualised teaching that will motivate, challenge and extend the G&T pupil.
- Regularly reviewing progress to ensure that pupils' needs are being met and targets are being achieved.

ENGLISH AS AN ADDITIONAL LANGUAGE

Pupils' whose only difficulty is related to English not being their first language are not classed as having SEN. Staff ensure that all aspects of a pupils' learning and development are considered in determining whether a delay is due to a special educational need or because English is not their first language. Tower College is committed to supporting pupils overcome difficulties relating to learning English as an additional language, please refer to the EAL policy for further information.

REFERRAL FOR AN EDUCATION, HEALTH AND CARE PLAN

The decision to make a referral for an EHC Plan, previously known as Statement of Special Educational Needs, will involve parents, the pupil, the SENCO and the teacher. An EHC plan referral can be requested when the needs of the pupil are not being met by the support already in place and it is felt they require a multi-agency approach to assessing need, planning provision and identifying resources. Information will be gathered from the relevant agencies and the parents', pupil, SENCO and teacher will all work together to develop and produce the plan. If an EHC plan is agreed to, then this will be reviewed annually and amended if necessary. Top-up funding may be provided by the Local Authority, on some occasions this funding may not be a possibility and therefore the Parents will need to discuss the increment of fee's to reflect the additional support with the SENCO and Senior Management Team.

EVALUATING THE SUCCESS OF PROVISION

We will evaluate the success of provision in a variety of ways, including:

- The views of parents, pupils and staff.
- The success of ISPs in meeting targets and improving outcomes.
- Through careful monitoring of the impact of interventions.
- Whether adequate progress has been made.
- Whether all staff understand the policy and are following it effectively.
- Use of P Scales/ Pre-key stage standards – a tool to assess the progress of children aged 5-14 who have SEN and whose abilities do not yet reach Level 1 of the curriculum.
- Use of GL Assessment data when appropriate.

WORKING WITH PARENTS

Tower College aims to involve parents in decisions regarding SEND provision for their child and are always available to discuss any concerns. In supporting a pupil with SEND, parent support, advice and feedback is vital.

Information is shared in the following ways:

- Home/school books
- Parent's evenings
- SEN Support plans. Feedback and suggestions from parents is welcomed.

- Discussions with the class teacher
- Contact with the SENCO via email
- Contact with the SENCO via our weekly SEN Drop-in Sessions

STAFF TRAINING (CPD)

Tower College is committed to providing regular training and learning opportunities for staff in supporting pupils with SEND. Ensuring that staff have access to up to date teaching methods will improve outcomes for pupils with SEND and all staff are able to apply for any courses they feel will be of benefit to pupils requiring SEND support.

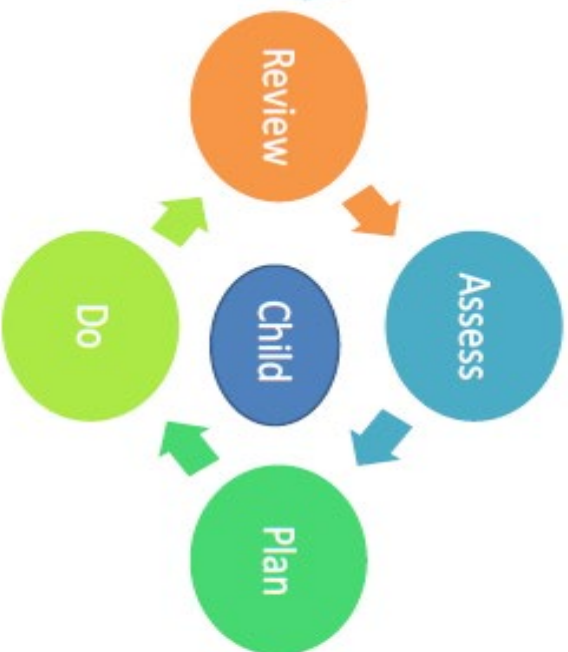

COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE

If a parent or carer has any concerns regarding the care or welfare of their child, an appointment can be made to see the Principal, Vice Principal, Head of Department or the SENCO, who will be able to advise on formal procedures for complaint.

1 In identifying a child as needing SEN support, the early years practitioner, working with the setting SENCO and the child's parents, will have carried out an analysis of the child's needs. This initial assessment should be reviewed regularly to ensure that support is matched to need. Where there is little or no improvement in the child's progress, more specialist assessment may be called for from specialist teachers or from health, social services or other agencies beyond the setting. Where professionals are not already working with the setting, the SENCO should contact them, with the parents' agreement.

This cycle of action should be revisited in increasing detail and with increasing frequency, to identify the best way of securing good progress. At each stage parents should be engaged with the setting, contributing their insights to assessment and planning. Intended outcomes should be shared with parents and reviewed with them, along with the action taken by the setting, at agreed times.

4 The effectiveness of the support and its impact on the child's progress should be reviewed in line with the agreed date (see Review Timetable below). The impact and quality of the support should be evaluated by the practitioner and the SENCO working with the child's parents and taking into account the child's views. They should agree any changes to the outcomes and support for the child in light of the child's progress and development. Parents should have clear information about the impact of the support provided and be involved in planning next steps.

2 Where it is decided to provide SEN support, and having formally notified the parents, the practitioner and the SENCO should agree, in consultation with the parent, the outcomes they are seeking, the interventions and support to be put in place, the expected impact on progress, development or behaviour, and a clear date for review. (see Review Timetable below) Plans should take into account the views of the child. The support and intervention provided should be selected to meet the outcomes identified for the child, based on reliable evidence of effectiveness, and provided by practitioners with relevant skills and knowledge. Any related staff development needs should be identified and addressed. Parents should be involved in planning support and, where appropriate, in reinforcing the provision or contributing to progress at home.

3 The early years practitioner or class teacher in all phases will work with the child on a daily basis. With support from the SENCO, they (and not the SENCO) should oversee the implementation of the interventions or programmes agreed as part of SEN support. The SENCO should support the practitioner in assessing the child's response to the action taken, in problem solving and advising on the effective implementation of support.
