

Ungendering Language

New Mexico GSA Network

Land Acknowledgement

As an uninvited guest on Indigenous land, I commit myself to working in partnership with Indigenous people as we heal the disruptions and harms of colonialism and live in reciprocal relationship with our natural environment and the people who inhabit it.

Funding Recognition

NMGSA's trainings have been made available to New Mexico community members at no cost due to contracts from the New Mexico Department of Human Services, Behavioral Health Services Division; and from the New Mexico Department of Health, Office of School and Adolescent Health.

Who are we?

Karen Dugas (she/her),
Program Director

Hendrix/Henny Olson
(they/them), Program Coordinator

Please put in the chat:

- Your name & pronouns
- Your role at NM Tech
- What do you hope to get out of today's training?

Please put questions you have in the chat during the presentation; we'll have a discussion at the end!

Why do we have this training?

Brief overview of tentacle monster/systems of oppression

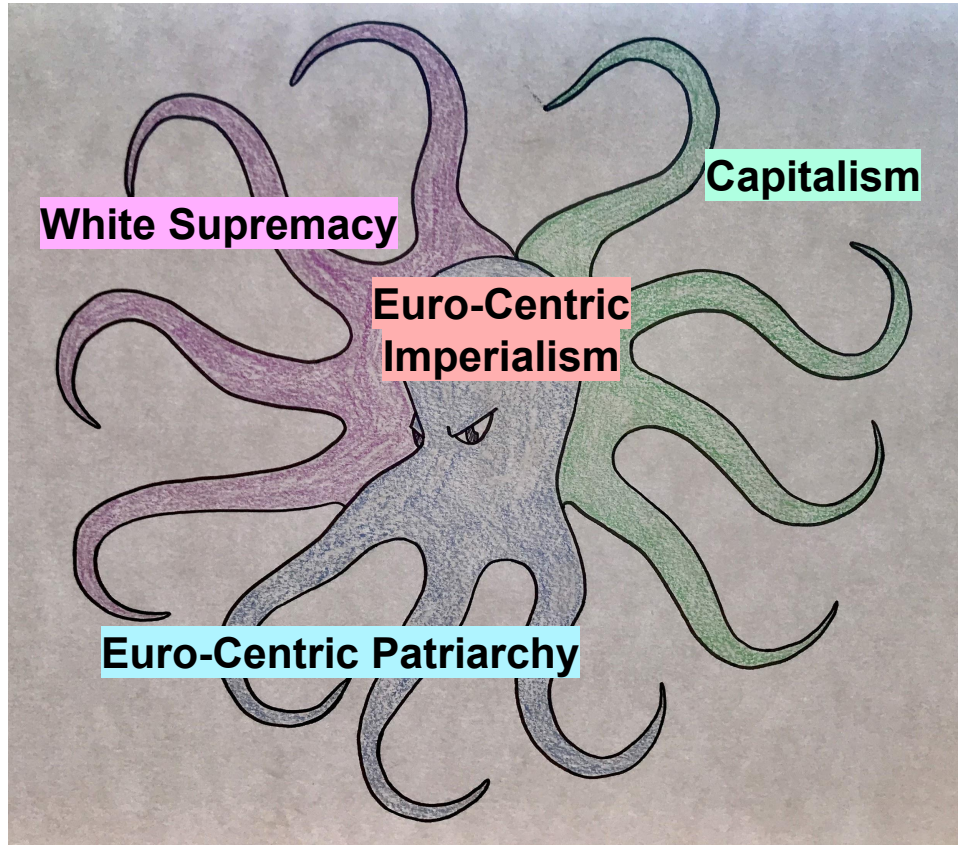

Image created by Hendrix Olson, 2020

Sexism:

- ★ Misogyny
- ★ Gender Binary
- ★ Sexual Violence
- ★ Reproductive Violence
- ★ Intimate Partner Violence
- ★ Transmisogyny
- ★ Transformative Masculinity*

Cisgenderism:

- ★ Transphobia
- ★ Gender Binary
- ★ Intersex Discrimination
- ★ Transmisogyny
- ★ Physical & Sexual Violence

Heterosexism:

- ★ Homophobia
- ★ Queerphobia
- ★ Biphobia
- ★ Heteronormativity
- ★ Gender Binary

Turns out, we have lots of habits that aren't inclusive!

- ★ Addressing Individuals
- ★ Addressing groups
- ★ Gendering everyday items

Addressing Individuals

- ★ Titles: Mrs./Ms., Mr., Sir, Ma'am
- ★ Professions: actor/actress, chairman, steward/stewardess
- ★ Casual titles and/or Terms of Endearment: dude, girl/gurl/gorl, bro, lady, sis
- ★ Accidentally or Intentionally assuming someone's pronouns

Addressing Groups

- ★ Ladies and Gentlemen, or variations on the phrase
- ★ Guys
- ★ For the Good of All Mankind
- ★ Brothers and Sisters
- ★ Professions: mailmen, salesmen, Congressmen

Gendering Everyday Items/Characteristics

- ★ Clothing: being categorized by gender rather than size/fit (sections - boy's/girl's, men's/women's)
- ★ Characteristics/tasks being attached to masculinity/femininity: Gossip (femme), Sports (masc), Power (masc), Being Emotional (femme)

“THE MASTER’S TOOLS
WILL NEVER DISMANTLE
THE MASTER’S HOUSE.” –
Audre Lorde

Overt and Covert Oppression

Microaggression

A statement, action, or incident that delivers indirect, subtle, or unintentional discrimination against members of a marginalized group.

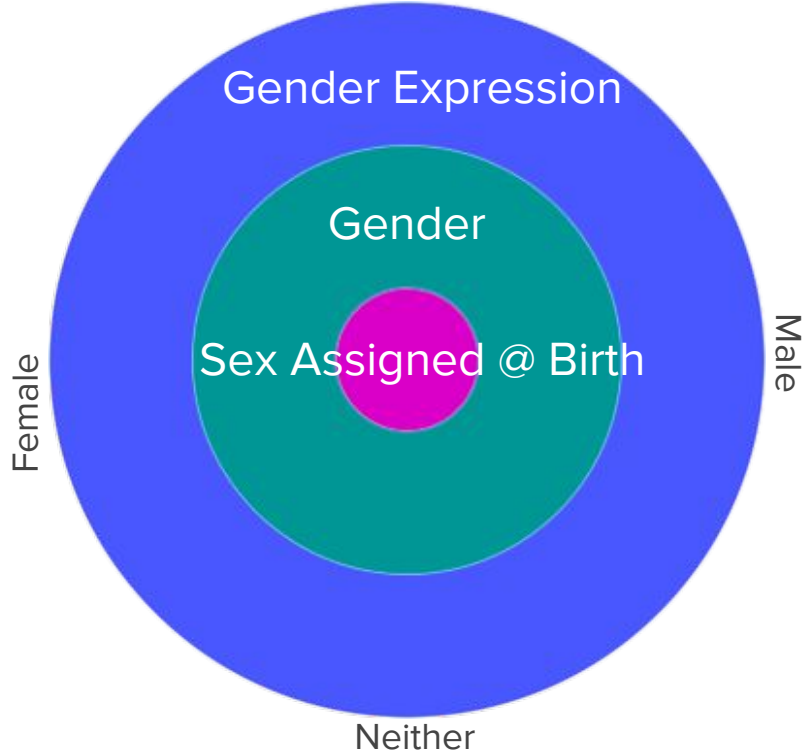

* Microaggressions have a macro affect. Regardless of the name, discrimination is still discrimination.

Shifting from a Binary Mindset to an Expansive Mindset

How we can perceive our Gender

Both

How our gender could be perceived by strangers

Some Terms for Genders, Expressions, and Community Roles

- Non-Binary
- Transgender
- Muxe
- Cisgender
- Hijra/Kinnar
- Agender
- Gender Fluid
- Gender Non-Conforming
- Femme
- Butch
- Kathoey/Phuying
- Androgynous
- Two-Spirit

Female

Male

Intersex

Transgender

Genderless

Non-binary transgender

Other gender

Transgender

Hetero

Lesbian

Gay

Bisexual

When did this all start?

What important context!
Where do I start the work?

Good news, you already started it! Spoiler alert, it's a never-ending cycle of learning and unlearning.

- Self-Reflect on our current habits:
 - Recognizing folks outside of the binary
 - Normalize asking/stating pronouns
 - Familiarizing ourselves with more terms to explain/describe gender
- Become comfortable with change:
 - What is true for us may not be the same in the future
 - What is true for ourselves may not be true for others

Remember these examples? Let's be more intentional with our wording

- ★ Addressing Individuals
- ★ Addressing groups
- ★ Everyday items

Uninclusive wording

English: dude, girl/gurl/gorl, guys, ladies, mom, dad, sister, brother, niece, nephew

Spanish: “-o, -os, -a, -as,” Latino/a, amigo/a, “a todos,” el/la, hermano/a, esposo/a, madre, padre, “Estoy cansado/a”

*Avoid gendering objects altogether

Let's try these instead!

English: Mx., friend, sibling, nibling, person, everyone, friends, icons, scholars, my community, people, folks, y'all, loved ones, parent

Spanish: “-e/es, -x, -i/is, -@, -u/us,” Latinx, amigue, les/lues, espose, abuel@, niñx, hermane, les padres, “Estoy cansadx”

English Pronouns*

They/them/their

Ey/em/eir

Xe/xem/xers

Zhe or Ze/hir/hirs

Fae/Faer Faers

Spanish Pronouns*

Ele

Ellx

Elle

Ol/olles

Elli

Non-Verbal:

Ellæ

Ell_

Ellu

Ell*

Ell@

* This is by no means a complete list, and language expands/adjusts all the time!

How to sign 'they'

in American Sign Language:

How to sign 'she'

in American Sign Language:

How to sign 'he'

in American Sign Language:

A highlight on American Sign Language (ASL)!

A bit of wholesomeness to end on

THEY

This person I know
Wants to be called they.
It could bring us much closer
To see them that way.

It's a strange thing to think
And harder to say,
But they are so happy
When the effort is made.

For all the theys and thems
It is this that I pray,
We be kind and accepting
And just let them be they.

Thank you!

Ways to stay in touch:

karen@themountaincenter.org

henny@themountaincenter.org

Social Media -

NM GSA Network or Adventure OUT!

@nmgsanetwork, @nmgsan, or @adventureout.themountaincenter
